

STATE'S NET OF EVIDENCE TIGHTENS ABOUT ROY HINDERLITER, YOUTH CHARGED WITH "AIR BUBBLE" MURDER OF SWEETHEART

Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe and Roy Hinderliter.

The state's attorney of Richland county, Illinois, declares that he has in his possession startling new evidence which he believes will fasten beyond all doubt upon Roy Hinderliter, wealthy young farmer boy, the odd "air bubble" murder of seventeen-year-old Elizabeth Radcliffe. Hinderliter was out riding with the girl when her death occurred, and it is believed that she died while he was attempting to perform an illegal operation.

CITY IS AUTHORIZED TO BORROW SUM OF $20,000

A petition was considered at the regular meeting of the city commissioners last night from residents residing in the vicinity of the Salt Lake & Ogden car barns, requesting that the car barns be declared a station for the taking on and off of passengers. The petition was headed by D. H. Ensign and told of the inconveniences experienced by the residents in that section in having to go to the interurban terminal on Twenty-fourth street. The petition was referred to Mayor Heywood.

Upon the recommendation of Mayor Heywood, commissioner of public affairs and finance, the commission authorized the borrowing of $20,000 from one of the local banks, the money to be used to meet the current expense until the taxes begin pouring into the city's coffers.

H. E. Steele, was paid $101 for serving summons in the poll tax suits brought by the city in 1913. The petition of W. H. Anderson et al, asking for a water main extension on Liberty avenue, was considered and Commissioner Miles L. Jones recommended that a two-inch main be laid. Mr. Jones also recommended that the petition of J. J. Brummitt for an extension of mains to Mountain View, be filed as the city has already recommended the extension of mains on Oak street which includes the former district. The installing of a two-inch main upon Seventh street, as asked for by Robert G. Agre, was recommended by Mr. Jones also and the three recommendations for mains were adopted by the commission.

The commission ordered that the contract for a side walk in district 142, and for curb and gutter district 120, be awarded to the J. P. O'Neill Construction company.

WARNING ISSUED ON ALLEGED CURES

Need of warning and protecting the public against spurious "cures" for infantile paralysis is urged upon the state dairy and food bureau, in a communication received yesterday from the United States department of agriculture at Washington.

It is pointed out in the letter received that the outbreak of infantile paralysis will tempt unscrupulous persons to offer for sale so-called "cures" or remedies for the dread malady.

Because of this danger, special instructions have been issued to all federal food and drug inspectors to be particularly alert for interstate shipments or importations of medicines, the makers of which allege that they will cure or alleviate the disease, for which, at the present time, no medical cure is known.

The public is, therefore, warned to regard with suspicion any medicine that is claimed as a cure for infantile paralysis, and inspectors are instructed to collect samples of all medicines in interstate commerce for which such claim is made.

Will Be Prosecuted.

Makers of such fraudulent remedies will be vigorously prosecuted wherever their activities are such as to make them liable under the Sherman amendment of the federal food and drugs act. Spurious remedies for the malady will be denied entry to the country where offered for import.

Experience of the federal food and drug officials in the past, it is pointed out, has taught them that whenever a serious epidemic exists unscrupulous dealers prey upon the fear or ignorance of the public by flooding the market with worthless, hastily prepared concoctions, for which they assert curative properties which have no foundation whatever in fact. Already, according to the information forwarded, federal inspectors have discovered shipments of a few such mixtures, alleged "cures" for infantile paralysis.

The sale of such products at this time, it is pointed out, is particularly threatening to the public health because many persons, relying on the false statements of impostors, neglect to secure competent medical advice. As a result, not only is the safety of the patient endangered, but in the absence of proper sanitary precautions the likelihood of contagion is greatly increased.

The federal food and drug act applies only to products that are shipped in interstate commerce, that is, from one state to another, or which are offered for import or export, or which are manufactured or sold within the District of Columbia. Products which are made and consumed wholly within a single state are subject only to such state laws as may apply, and are under control only of state health officials. The federal law does not apply, for instance, to patent medicines made within the state of New York and sold in New York City. Persons buying and using a remedy made in their own state must rely on the protection accorded them by their local health authorities.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Nine Tenths of All Stomach Trouble Due to Acidity Says New York Physician.

A well-known New York physician who has made a special study of stomach and intestinal diseases recently made the startling statement that nearly all intestinal trouble as well as many diseases of the vital organs, are directly traceable to excessive stomach acidity commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn which not only irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach but may often cause gastritis and dangerous stomach ulcers.

Neglect, she says, easily leads to a chronic super-acidity commonly mistaken for indigestion and is the principal cause for the indiscriminate swallowing of the various so-called patent digestive aids which bring only temporary and false relief. In an acid condition of the stomach no artificial digestants whatever should be employed as these are likely to merely pass the sour, burning acid on into the intestines, causing serious trouble there. Instead he recommends the use of some simple, harmless and inexpensive antacid such as a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, taken with a little hot or cold water right after meals or whenever distress is felt.

This simple remedy is just a few seconds from its entering the stomach neutralizes or sweetens all its sour acid contents. Dissolve the dangerous acidity and there will be no need for medicine as all symptoms of indigestion will promptly cease. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or indigestion should get a few ounces of the pure bisulphate of magnesia from their druggist and, give this treatment a trial. In view, however, of the many varieties of magnesia used for various purposes, stomach sufferers should be careful to get it only in the bisulphate form (either powder or tablets) and in a sealed package to insure its purity.—Advertisement

HARRY CAREY IN

"A KNIGHT OF THE RANGE" AT ORACLE

Rough riding is a form of amusement found only on the Western plains. Easterners have to depend on Wild West shows for their exhibitions of the reckless daring of cowboys, mounted upon bucking bronchos. That is, they had to depend upon these shows until moving pictures were invented. Now the whole world may thrill with admiration for the daring feats of horsemanship of these sons of the plains, with their fine ideal of manhood—squareness toward man and chivalry toward women. The picturesque, robust life of the west has never been depicted with greater truth than in this Red Feather feature, "A Knight of the Range," at the Oracle Theatre Thursday only. In the first place it was written by a man who knows his subject from personal experience, and who then plays the chief character himself. Harry Carey does not have to pretend to be a cowboy, because he is one. Known as the most daring leading man in pictures, he is never so perfectly cast as in a Western role, and the part of "Cheyenne Harry" fits him like the proverbial glove.

The story of this thrilling drama is as follows: The country about Lariat is a cowboys' paradise, and among the many champion riders and ropers none was better known than "Cheyenne Harry." Bob Graham was a close second to Harry and up to the time he met Bess Dawson, the postmistress of Lariat, he had been one of the "wildest of the wild." It was a case of love at first sight between the two, with Harry standing behind Bob to keep him straight for the night, and at the time the story opens she had received a letter from Bob telling her of a successful round-up, and that he would soon be with her a "clean man," due to the unflinching friendship of Harry. He also mentions the fact that he was saved from death by Harry's brilliant work during the round-up, and that he is sending her a unique engagement ring.

The balance of the play is full of thrills and intense excitement. It is undoubtedly one of the best shows in the movies today. Be sure to call at the Oracle Theatre next Thursday and see this wonderful picture of western life.—Advertisement

CHINESE GRADUATES COMING TO U. S.

Peking, June 30.—Thirty-one young men were graduated this year from the Tsing Hua College, an institution maintained with the Boxer indemnity money refunded to China by the United States, and they will leave for America in a few weeks to enter various colleges and universities in that country.

Paul S. Reinsch, the American minister, Tsao Ju-lin, the acting minister for foreign affairs, and C. C. Wang, of the board of communications, who was educated in America, addressed the young graduates. Mr. Reinsch drew a distinction between the old style of learning and the new style. He said the day is passed when a real scholar seeks distinction and wealth for himself. The man who has true learning now realizes his responsibility to serve others, and turns his knowledge to practical use for the betterment of his own country and all mankind. Mr. Reinsch said this is an age when action and real service to the general public are expected from educated men. He congratulated the graduates on finishing their preparatory course, and extended them a hearty welcome to the educational institutions of America.

THRILLING RACE WITH A SPARROW

London, July 31.—A thrilling race between an officer of the Flying Corps in an aeroplane and a swallow caused him to doubt whether their reputed flight of 200 miles an hour was correct.

"I was up in the air last week one day when I observed a swallow flying high in front of me," he said. "I resolved to test its speed. I went out full after it, and the swallow also put on full speed. The bird dived; so did I. It went up, and I followed. We were at it hammer and tongs for a quarter of an hour, diving, rising and racing and I gained on it foot by foot. Finally one of the wires on my machine struck the bird and it went down. I was sorry and felt selfish thus to take the bird's life for sport."

GUARDS REPORT. Brownsville, Tex., July 31.—Three regiments of the Iowa national guard encamped at Brownsville reported to General James Parker at Fort Brown today. This brings the total number of troops at Brownsville to almost a division.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which cannot be cured by local applications of any kind.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
